

*Lexington
Public Schools*

Chad Hall, Superintendent

April 20th, 2020

To: District patrons
RE: Public shelter

Owners of storm shelters many times have liability insurance limitations that require them to coordinate with a first responder or public safety entity to conduct public entry and occupancy. Due to the expected call volume for local agencies during a weather emergency, it is regrettably a joint decision that Lexington Public Schools and the City of Lexington must announce that there are no storm shelters provided by the school or city that will be open to the public.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Chad Hall". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style. Below the signature, the name "Chad Hall" is printed in a simple, black, sans-serif font.

Chad Hall